

Webinar: Life Sciences and Healthcare - Exporting to the English Speaking Caribbean

Invitation

The Caribbean is a diverse region with significant economic potential and growth opportunities with a population size of just over 6.5 million persons. The business systems and processes in most Caribbean markets will be familiar to UK firms as legal systems are based on the English Rule of Law. As developing countries, the region continues to invest significantly in improving the healthcare system with specific focus on pharmaceuticals, non-pharmaceuticals, medical devices, equipment and the construction and outfitting of new hospitals. Given the small scale of regional manufacturing in this sector, the Caribbean relies heavily on imports to meet the healthcare needs of each country.

Information

Date: 18th November 2020
Time: 14:00 - 15:00
Location: MS Teams
To Register: Please click here

For further information, please contact Mr. Vincent Ramlochan at:

Email: vincent.ramlochan@fcdo.gov.uk

Join this webinar which will raise the awareness of export markets in the English-speaking Caribbean by:

- Highlighting the benefits of the Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA) to UK firms
- Sharing key information and insights when doing business in the Caribbean
- Showcasing opportunities for UK firms

Panel:

- Laura Ferguson- Regional Director Caribbean- Department for International Trade, Bridgetown
- Vincent Ramlochan, Senior Trade and Investment Advisor – Department for International Trade, Port of Spain
- D’Jamila Ward, Trade Policy Manager – Caribbean - Department for International Trade, Bridgetown

Hosted by:

